A Simple Way To Remove Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single grain and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

BOLTON

Miss Annabel Post, 34, died last week Tuesday night at the Frank C. Sumner farm, where she has lived the past 15 years. Miss Post was born in Andover, the daughter of Arthur and Chloe Lord Post. Both parents died when she was quite young. She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Ida Post Hanna of New London, an aunt, Mrs. William Pinney of Andover, three cousins, Charles Pinney of Bolton, Frank Pinney of South Manchester and Arthur Pinney of Andover. Miss Post has been manager of the Frank C. Sumner farm for the past eight or ten years. Something over a year ago she was taken ill and never regained her strength, but was able to be about and have an oversight of affairs until five days previous to her death, when she was taken ill and never regained her strength. She was a kind, helpful, and cheerful woman at all times. There was no one who did not find in her a good friend.

The funeral was held at the Congregational church at 1 o'clock Friday. Rev. Frank R. Abbott officiated. The bearers were Charles Pinney, Frank Pinney, Arthur Pinney, John May, James Robinson and Clifford Herring. The floral offerings were beautiful. Burial was in Andover.

Mrs. Frank H. Strong has returned from a visit with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Julius L. Strong, in Danvers.

Miss Maude E. White was a recent guest of her cousin, Miss Ida E. Holbrook, in South Manchester.

Charles N. Loomis, Jr., of Pawtucket, R. I., spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Loomis.

The mercury at Bolton Center was not nearly as low Tuesday morning as the lower land about. At this center it was about zero and varied in the lower places, 24 being the lowest reported, at Andrew E. Manegaglia's.

"That Distinctive Store on Franklin St."

With merchandise almost up to the skies in price, we could have hoarded our stock and eventually sold them at much greater margin of profit, but this would not be in line with the broad progressive policy of the executives of this business. Our purchases consummated many months ago make it possible absolutely to undersell any competitor in New London county. Furthermore, these prices are less than the wholesale market are quoting. The Community Cash Grocery is not surpassed by any other store of its kind in New England. Truly the Community Cash Grocery Co. has won its name on merit. A few of the remarkable bargains that await you.
